MILWAUKEE:

THURSDAY AFTERNOON, JUNE 24.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

FOR PRESIDENT,
JOHN P. HALE, of New-Hampshire.
FOR VICE-PRESIDENT,
CASSIUS M. CLAY, of Kentucky.

SLAVERY TICKET---No. 1.

FOR PRESIDENT,
FRANKLIN PIERCE, of N. Hampshire.
FOR VICE-PRESIDENT,
WILLIAM R. KING, of Alabama.

SLAVERY TICKET---No. 2.

FOR PRESIDENT,
WINFIELD SCOTT, of New-Jersey.
FOR VICE-PRESIDENT,
WM. A. GRAHAM, of North Carolina.

The Elkhorn Star speaks very handsomely of the nomination, (of Pierce & King) but wishes a little more time for investigation, before committing itself. The Racine Advocate is rather inclined to hoist the flag of the Democratic nominees, but is in a fix whether to do so or not.—Waukesha Dem.

The Elkhorn Star, about a year ago, pledged itself publicly to stick to the Free Soil party as long as there were enough Free Soilers left to make a row. We don't believe it is going to swallow itself, or the Slavery Platform at this late day.

The Racine Advocate has proved Hunkerism in a "fix," and how an editor who sustained the Buffalo Platform in '48, can rejoice, as the editor of the Waukesha Democrat does, that "John Van Buren sustains the action of the Baltimore Convention, platform and all, is irreconcilable with our ideas of honesty, or consistency.

Hon. R. Rantoul, Jr., and lady arrived in town on Saturday evening, and are stopping with Mrs. Ballard. Mr. R., we believe, does not propose to instruct our citizens in the "higher law" doctrine by public declamation, and he will therefore be treated with that consideration to which his position and his talents entitle him. While we cannot but respect the profound learning and varied acquirements of this distinguished son of modern Athens, we are constantly admonished by his political course, that "with the talents of an angel a man be a fool."—Madison Argus and Democrat.

And "we are constantly admonished by" such paragraphs as the above, that "a man may be a fool" without "the talents of an angel."

ABOVE THE STARS.—When Mr. Webster last year gave a social dinner at his farm in New Hampshire, Gen. Pierce, who was present, is recorded to have said, that if Massachusetts rejected the great statesman, the Democracy of New Hampshire would take him up, and bear him aloft so high that his feet would touch the stars!

What will Mr. Pierce do, now that the Baltimore Convention has rejected? Perhaps they will both "see stars" together, next fall.

Postponement of the Railroad Celebration.—By a despatch to the Morning News, we learn that the Railroad Celebration—to take place yesterday at Chicago—was postponed until today, on account of the delegations from Buffalo, Cleveland and Dunkirk not having arrived in consequence of a slight accident that occurred to the Indiana, delaying their arrival several hours.

Chicago is crowded with people from every direction. The delegation from this city number between 600 and 700 people.

The Port Washington Blade has completed its third year. It has twice been enlarged, and been much improved during this time, and though commenced in discouraging circumstances, yet by the industry and perseverance of its editor, Mr. Bird, it has become well established. It is Free Soil in its sympathies and tendencies, but, like all partizan papers, feels under obligation to support the nominees of the party, though committed to Slavery. Still it is a liberal democratic sheet, and we wish it success.

WHITE PEONY.—We do not profess to be much of a florist. The white peony may be no rarity in some sections of the country; but we must say that until Saturday last we never saw nor heard of such a flower.—Watertown Chronicle.

We have cultivated it for years. If friend Hadley will give us a call we will show him some as beautiful and fragrant as the one Mrs. Cady sent him.

We were not aware that it required genius to become a blackguard.—Waukesha Democrat.

Nor we. The Waukesha editor is proof to the contrary. And as one fact is worth a thousand theories, we think he has proved that a little blockhead may become a great blackguard.

A religion that does not constrain a man to pay his just debts, when he has the ability to do it is worth nothing.—Ex.

There must be a great deal of worthless religion in the country, then.

The Pierce and King Ratification Meeting, at Fond du Lac, was a complete failure. It was adjourned over from afternoon till evening, and from evening indefinitely. The Fond du Lac papers don't even mention it.

THE FLOOD.—The water in the Rock, at this point, has rose [risen] a few inches since our last issue, but is now slowly falling.—As yet, no damage, of any consequence, has been done to the dams here or those above.

We are happy to learn that the breach in the dam at Horicon has been nearly repaired. The timbers have been replaced, and the planking and graveling mostly completed. The lake has fallen about four feet.—Watertown Chron.

MEN, NOT PRINCIPLES.—It seems that the Seward whigs have reversed the 'old' Motto, Principles, not Men, and made it read, "Men not Principles." The N. Y. Times' correspondent of the 18th writes: "The Northern Whigs gave way on the Platform with the understanding that Kentucky, Tennessee and Virginia, would give Scott the nomination. If Scott is not nominated, they will charge breach of faith on the South." The Editor says:

"Altogether, the Platform is all we could hope to get, while the unity of the party and the attainment of a candidate were dependent upon its adoption."

That is, they must go for Slave-Catching, or the Party would split in pieces.

The Chicago Journal says that Catharine Hayes' concert, in that city, on Tuesday evening, was attended by the largest audience that ever assembled in Tremont Hall.

She will have a great audience here next Monday evening.

The Morning News vs. the Telegraph.—The News, this morning, publishes a Telegraphic dispatch from Maysville, Ky., June 22d—"The nomination of Gen. Scott caused some disappointment here,"—and then suppressed the last part,—"but the party will generally stick to the ticket."

Reliable paper for news, that.

DISHONORABLE.—The Albany Register accused the editor of the N. Y. Tribune of writing to a friend in 1818, that "Scott is a vain, conceited coxcomb of a man. His brains—all that he has—are in his epaulettes; and if he should be elected President he would tear the whig party into tatters in less than six months."

Greeley disclaimed it and called for the letter. The Register would not produce it, nor give the name of the recipient. The Tribune, finally smoked him out of his burrow, and the person to whom the letter was addressed, wrote to Mr. Greeley, over his own signature, that the letter was not in existence, and that it never contained, either in word or substance, the statements which the Register had attributed to it. And the Morning News, knowing these facts, has the brass to say, this morning, that these statements have been conclusively proved home upon him. (Greeley.) Cannot there be fairness, truth and honesty in conducting a political canvass? We are no champion of Scott or Greeley, but we dislike to see the press thus degraded by partizan falsehoods.

David Graham, an eminent lawyer of New York City, died recently of pulmonary disease.

The Detroit papers say that Scott was nominated on the 52d ballot, and that the vote stood, for Scott 158, Fillmore 112, Webster 21. We shall know, by mail, Friday or Saturday.

The ladies of Port Washington have notified the public that they will give a dinner, at that place, on the third of July, the avails of which will be appropriated towards the completion of the Methodist Episcopal Church, now being built in that village.

Fire at Port Washington.—Two buildings were destroyed by fire, at Port Washington, on Tuesday morning last. One was a tavern, kept by a German named Walthers, the other a dwelling house, owned by a Mr. Ohlson—who is now in California—and untenanted, his family having removed the Saturday previous. The two buildings were valued at near $1,000. The former was insured for $800, the other uninsured.

KILLED.—J. McLaughlin and a negro, at Harper's Ferry, the 22d inst., by the bursting of a cannon, while firing a salute in honor of the visit of the Directors of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. Others were also badly hurt.

The Morris' Fireworks Factory, at Black Rock, blew up on the 18th inst., by the spontaneous combustion of chemicals used in making red fire. Workmen all at dinner. Loss $1,000.

The Mandamus case was argued at Madison, on the 22d and 23d inst., by J. R. Doolittle in behalf of the Governor, and Geo. B. Smith and Samuel Crawford for M. L. Martin. Decision not given.

The Chicago Journal says that passengers arrived in that city, on Monday, by the Southern Michigan route, having left N. Y. City but 45 hours before.

The Pittsburgh Daily Union is one of the neatest papers in the Union.

Green Apples, says the Gazette of the 15th inst., are abundant in the Cincinnati market.

Prof. Palmer is having a fine time at Waukesha.

Plank Road Meeting.—A plank road meeting was held at Newark, Washington Co., last week, and was addressed by Mr. J. Vliet, of this city, and others. Mr. Vliet urged upon the meeting the necessity and expediency of extending this road from Milwaukee to Fond du Lac, and read the resolutions adopted by the Milwaukee and Fond du Lac plank road company.

James Winston, Esq., the whig nominee for Governor of Missouri, politically, is what is termed a Free Soil Whig, says the St. Louis Union.

The Maine Liquor Law, subject to a vote of the people next November, passed the New Hampshire House, the 18th inst., 172 to 105. The Senate 9 to 2, with a proviso that if not ratified by the people, it should be indefinitely postponed. The House did not concur, and it probably will not pass till the November session.

For the Free Democrat.

Something for the Curious—Ancient Relics at Ceresco.

In the village of Ceresco, several pieces—amounting to five or six feet—of an iron tube, of about ½ inch bore, closely wound with copper wire, or small iron wire covered with copper, have been plowed up in the gardens by deep plowing. Some of it is found in a case of wood, apparently red cedar, but so decayed as to drop off soon as exposed to the atmosphere. It has caused much speculation as to its use and manufacture. The town has been settled eight years, and several of us, who were among the first settlers, know it has not been brought here by the present inhabitants, and that it is found deep in the ground, which to appearance, has been for ages undisturbed. The ground where it is found is a level prairie, surrounded by hills, springs, waterfalls, &c., and covered by mounds and other evidences of previous occupancy, at a very remote period. But by whom? is the query.

The pipe may have been used to bring water from the springs, for jets, fountains, &c., and as the fall was great, and much strength required, it was wound to secure strength, and with copper, to prevent oxydization. But where is the machinery, and where the ingenious race who made and used it? We have not yet taken pains to ascertain whether its position and quantity will warrant the conclusion, that it was used for conveying water. But we are sure it was brought here previous to our settlement, and buried below the ordinary depth of plowing, and in the vicinity of a mound of ancient origin, and that it was ingeniously manufactured by machinery fitted for working both iron and copper. Recent discoveries in the copper mines of Lake Superior, have gone far to prove that they have been wrought by ingenious and scientific men before the European settlements were made on this continent; and it is believed by some theorists, that this whole Northern Mississippi and Upper Lake region has been inhabited by a race far advanced in skill, as manifested in the mechanic arts, and especially in working the metals, but not much advanced in commerce, or in writing and book-making, and that they were exterminated by some fatal contagion, similar to the plague, but more sweeping and deadly in its effect. However reasonable this may appear, it is only speculation, and it is doubtful whether the few facts which have been gathered, will warrant even the conclusion that the country was occupied by a race much advanced in general science. Yet we must acknowledge that our country affords some curious specimens of human skill, as well as of Geologic history.

I shall send a fragment of this pipe to the State University, for inspection in the Cabinet of Minerals, and hope Gen. Smith's history of the State may (altho' I do not expect it) throw more light on the old relics.

W. CHASE.

Ceresco, June 14th, 1852.

A large and enthusiastic Scott ratification meeting was held at Madison, last evening.

CHRISTIAN ANTI-SLAVERY CONVENTION AT RAVENNA.—This meeting was well attended, many of the most able Clergymen being present. Resolutions, disfellowshipping Slavery and Slavery Boards, and approving of Free Mission Societies, were passed. The following facts stated in relation to the expurgation of religious books to suit the South, ought to startle all Christian men. Our Religion is corrupted by Slavery as much as our politics:

"Mr. Longly, of Chatham, a Congregationalist minister, stated that he was ashamed of their Hymn-books, and also that of the Presbyterians. Occasionally he wanted to sing a Freedom Song, but could find none in the book. Slavery had torn them all out. A beautiful Hymn, once familiar to all, had the stanza that hinted at slavery torn out—all else was retained. Here are the missing lines which the Northern Churches, at the bidding of their Southern overseers, have expunged. Read it—think of it—good friends!

"Thy neighbor! yonder tolling slave!
Fettered in thought and limb,
Whose hopes are all beyond the grave,
Go thou and ransom him."

Rev. Mr. Torrey, of East Cleveland, said that he had labored under the same difficulty. Within a few years all the liberty songs had disappeared from his hymn-book. He had recently purchased a new one, neatly printed by the Bible Society, with the hymns on one page, and the music on another. At a monthly concert a short time since, he thought proper to remember the slave, and turned to the 72d of Watt's Hymns, and commenced to read, when, to his amazement, he found that the verse which he most wanted had gone.—Here it is:

"Blessings abound where e'er He reigns,
The joyful prisoner bursts his chains,
The weary find eternal rest,
And all the sons of want are blest."

Mr. James Richardson has lately purchased of the Messrs. Douglass their water power, mills and farm, near the outlet of the Second Lake, and is now engaged in taking out the dam. This will be of great advantage to the water powers in the vicinity of Madison, and make all our low lands available, and give us a good road around the beach on the west end of Third Lake.—Madison Palladium.

Loss by Fire.—On Friday, 11th inst., Mr. Kuhl met with the loss of his house by fire.—Mr. K. saved his youngest child with difficulty; lost his house, furniture, bedding, stove, &c.—Portage Republic.

COMMITTED.—Grover, the man who murdered Richardson, has had an examination and been committed for trial. A woman who was living with him, has been arrested and lodged in jail, as an accomplice in the murder.—Pt. Washington Blade.

The Democratic Review, for April is death on "old Fogies."—Lancaster Intelligencer.

The Democratic Convention for June was also "death on old Fogies."—Sandusky Mirror.

And so will the people be, next November.

A Parisian feuilletonist recently stated that he saw a female selling candy by the stick, before the door of a theatre, who in 1828 drove her carriage with four horses, and was the idol of Paris.

You think too much of me as a man. No author can be as moral as his works, as no preacher can be as pious as his sermons.—[J. Paul Ritcher.

Mr. Proudhon, the French socialist agitator, is said to be coming to this country, having been set at liberty on condition that he would leave France.

LOCAL MATTERS.

WAUGH'S PANORAMA.—We saw a part of it last evening, and think it superior in interest, and as a work of Art, to most of the Panoramas which have been exhibited here.—Many of the scenes called forth marked applause from the audience. We think, if our citizens generally knew its worth, they would not fail to visit it. We would suggest to the Lecturer that he pronounce proper names more slowly and with greater distinctness. We know the temptation to speak fast in such circumstances is great, and the habit once acquired grows on one, but he should remember that many of the audience are not familiar with the names of all the places represented, and that few of those who are, have ever visited their localities, and would not therefore recognise them on the canvas.

We hope all our readers who can, will visit this Panorama.

PAY UP.—Those who have applied for shanties for the 4th of July occasion, but have not yet paid the stipulated amount therefor, are notified, that unless the money is forthcoming to-day, their shanties will be relet to others immediately, as there are many desirous of engaging them, who are willing to pay up promptly.

POLICE COURT.—A colored man was tried yesterday, for committing an assault upon a passenger, on the propeller Rossiter, while on her way from Green Bay to this port, and fined $15 and costs.

The Mate of the brig Hutchinson was arrested this morning, for assaulting a sailor. He gave bail, and the examination was put over until next week.

RUN AWAY—The Sprinkler, formerly used on East Water St. $5 reward will be paid for its recapture and return, dead or alive. *

Important if True. — Mosquitoes.— Tie a piece of flannel or sponge to a thread made fast to the top of the bedstead; wet the flannel or sponge with camphorated spirits, and the mosquitos will leave the room.

The streets were alive, this forenoon, with Norwegian and German emigrants, industriously preparing to leave for the interior.

The steamer Globe went down for Buffalo, with a large load of freight and passengers. Many of our citizens, especially ladies,—God bless them—took passage on her, preferring a ride on so good a boat, with such a gentlemanly and obliging a commander as Capt. Pratt, to a ride across Michigan by rail. A pleasant journey, a happy visit, and a safe return to them all.

INSTRUCTION IN MUSIC.—Mrs. U. F. Briggs, it will be seen by her card, proposes to instruct pupils in music. She has the reputation of being one of the best performers on the piano forte, in the West.

Celebration of Independence, at Hartland.—The citizens of Hartland, Merton, Lisbon and vicinity, are making preparations to celebrate the Anniversary of our National Independence, on Saturday, the 3d of July. The place of meeting will be one mile north of the village of Hartland. Rev. J. J. Miter and S. M. Booth have been invited to address the audience.

SUNDAY DISCUSSION.—Some of the citizens of Waukesha have proposed to hold a public discussion at the Court House, in that place, on the first Sunday of each month—commencing on the 4th of July.

The first subject to be discussed is, "Shall Railroad and other travelling on Sunday be tolerated."

The reading public will please notice HULL'S advertisement of "Books for the Times."

These popular remedies are scientifically compounded of Vegetable Extracts that possess extraordinary virtue, and have long been valued high for their purity, mildness, safety, certainty and thoroughness in effectually curing the diseases for which they are recommended—therefore Sloan's Medicines have rapidly worked their way to the affections of the public generally, which furnishes proof positive of their superiority over all other remedies.

SLOAN'S LIFE SYRUP

IS altogether superior to any Medicine heretofore discovered for the rapid cure of Colds, Coughs, Influenza, Hoarseness, Whooping Cough, Croup, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma, Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease, also for all diseases which originate from impurity of the blood, to wit: Salt Rheum, Mercurial, Syphilitic or Venereal, and Eruptive, or Diseases of the Skin, as Blotches, Pimples or Pustules, and all Itching Eruptions, Chronic Inflammation of the Liver, White Swellings, Necrosis, or Fever Sores, Rickets, Fistula, and King's Evil; in short, in every taint in the system or Blood, from whatever cause it may arise, or of however long standing, this medicine will be found far superior to any other remedy.

This Syrup rapidly imparts Purity and Vitality to the Blood, and action to the Liver, and thereby assists nature in throwing off disease.

Notwithstanding this Syrup is a powerful Curative, and invariably creates an appetite, gives tone and energy to the nervous system, and strengthens the whole body, yet it is mild in its action, and may be safely employed in the most delicate cases. It is agreeable to the taste and stomach, and in diseases of Women and Children, One Bottle of Sloan's Life Syrup will produce more real benefit than ten times the same quantity of any other preparation offered to the public. One table spoonful of this Syrup is all that is necessary to be given at a time, whereas, nearly all other preparations are recommended to be taken in large quantities, which seldom benefit the patient, and frequently overloads the stomach and produces serious injury—consequently Sloan's Life Syrup, is not only the best medicine of the kind in use, but it is decidedly the cheapest. For Man it has no equal, and is emphatically the Poor Man's Friend, and a superior Family Medicine.

FRANKLIN PIERCE vs. THE RIGHT OF PETITION.

December 26, 1836, Mr. Adams presented a petition from citizens of Pennsylvania for the abolition of slavery and the slave trade in the District of Columbia. In reply to a question by Mr. Pickens, the Speaker said that the rule adopted at the last session for the disposition of all such petitions, expired with the session. A motion was immediately made to lay it upon the table, and it prevailed, yeas 116, nays 36—Franklin Pierce among the yeas, John Quincy Adams among the nays.(k)

January 9, 1837, Mr. Adams presented a similar petition; Mr. Glascock of Georgia objected to its reception; Mr. Parks moved to lay the question of reception on the table, and this motion prevailed—yeas 130, nays 69—We do not find the names recorded, but it is fair to presume that Mr. Pierce voted in the affirmative, from the fact that he had voted affirmatively on an identical motion made by Mr. Davis on the preliminary question in relation to the reception of a petition presented by Mr. Adams, February 3, 1836.

The Speaker said that the effect of this motion was to arrest the action of the House on the petition, and not to lay it upon the table. In other words, the House refused to receive it.(l)

The same day, Mr. Adams presented another Anti-Slavery petition, and the question was put directly on its reception. The Northern allies of the Slave Power were not prepared to deny in this gross manner the right of petition, though they had been constantly violating it in fact, and they voted with Mr. Adams and his friends to receive it—the name of Franklin Pierce being recorded for the first time on the same side with Mr. Adam's. The petition having been received, it was laid upon the table without debate or consideration—yeas 156, nays 50—Franklin Pierce voting with the yeas, John Quincy Adams with the nays.(m)

January 16, 1837, several petitions for the abolition of slavery and the slave trade in the District were presented; the question of reception was raised in every case, and laid upon the table—the Speaker deciding that the effect of the proceedings was to suspend all action, and leave the petition exactly where it was. We have no record of the yeas and nays in these cases; but Mr. Pierce doubtless voted as he had previously done.

January 18, 1837, the House, under the screw of the previous question, adopted, on motion of Mr. Hawes of Kentucky, the gag rule of the last session, reported by the select committee of which Mr. Pierce was a member, and in the report of which he entirely concurred. It was adopted by a similar vote to that given for it at the last session.(n)

February 6, 1837, Mr. Adams rose, and said he held in his hand a paper, on which, before it was presented, he desired to have the decision of the Speaker. It was a petition from two persons declaring themselves to be slaves. He wished to know whether the Speaker considered such a petition as coming within the rules of the House.

The reader of the debates in Congress, when Mr. Adams was struggling against fearful odds for the maintenance of the right of petition, will recollect what then took place. The House was shaken as with a tempest.—Although Mr. Adams had not presented the petition, retaining it in its possession, declining even to send it to the Speaker's chair till he had obtained the decision of the Speaker as to whether, if presented, it would come within the rule, the Slaveholding members, blinded by their indignation, gave way to excesses of passion, and introduced one resolution after another, with a view to inflict punishment on the venerable man for an act he had not committed. Several days were spent in this insensate attempt to crush the defender of the right of petition, and it was with extreme difficulty he obtained the floor to correct the gross mis-representations of his adversaries and vindicate his conduct.

At last, they agreed to urge the following resolution, submitted by Mr. Patton of Virginia:

"Resolved, That any member who shall hereafter present to the House any petition from the slaves of this Union, ought to be considered as regardless of the feelings of the House, the rights of the Southern States, and unfriendly to the Union.

"That the Hon. John Quincy Adams having solemnly disclaimed all design of doing anything disrespectful to the House in the inquiry he made of the Speaker as to the petition purporting to be from slaves, and having avowed his intention not hereafter to present the petition to the House, being of opinion that it ought not to be presented: therefore all further proceedings in regard to his conduct do now cease."

It was moved to lay the whole subject on the table, but Mr. Adams and his friends keenly felt that, after all the vindicative assaults upon him, without opportunity having been allowed him for defence, this would be a disposition of the subject highly unjust.—They voted against the motion, as did the Southern members, who were anxious to have an expression on the transaction, the motion failed—but Mr. Pierce did not vote at all.—He would not vote to give Mr. Adams a chance to be heard; he would not vote against any of his Southern friends.

February 9, the subject being still under discussion, the motion to get rid of the subject by laying it on the the table, was again made, and with a similar result—Mr. Pierce still declining to vote.

The question was then taken on the first of Mr. Patton's resolutions, and decided in the negative—yeas 92, nays 105—Mr. Pierce not voting. The second resolution was also lost—yeas 21, nays 137—Mr. Pierce still not voting.

Several Southern members voted against the first resolution of Mr. Patton, or refused to vote for it, inasmuch as the petition referred to was for the expulsion of Mr. Adams, not for the abolition of Slavery, and they were also unwilling to define in advance the kind of punishment a member deserved who should present an Anti-Slavery petition from slaves. Mr. Pierce, we presume, agreed with these; for on the 11th, we find him moving to reconsider the vote by which that resolution had been rejected—the purpose being to modify it. It was reconsidered, yeas 145, nays 48, and then modified, so as to read—

"Resolved, That slaves do not possess the right of petition secured to the people of the United States by the Constitution."

After a great deal more discussion and denunciation, in the course of which Mr. Adams was threatened by Waddy Thompson with an indictment by the Grand Jury of the District of Columbia, his adversaries, failing in their attempt to censure him, settled down upon the following resolutions:

"An inquiry having been made by an honorable member from Massachusetts, whether a paper which he held in his hand purporting to be a petition from certain slaves, and declaring themselves slaves, came within the order of the House of the 18th of January, and the said paper not having been received by the Speaker, he stated that in a case so extraordinary and novel he would take the advice and consent of the House:

"Resolved, That this House cannot receive the said petition without disregarding its own dignity, the rights of a large class of citizens of the South and West, and the Constitution of the United States.

"Resolved, That slaves do not possess the right of petition secured to the People of the United States by the Constitution."

The first resolution was passed—yeas 160, nays 38; the second also—yeas 162, nays 18—Franklin Pierce in both instances voting yea, John Quincy Adams, nay!(o)

We have completed the record of Mr. Pierce in the House. It demonstrates that during the time he held a seat in the House of Representatives, he was an earnest, thorough, consistent opponent of Anti-Slavery agitation and Anti-Slavery discussion; that he was constantly arrayed against Mr. Adams, the illustrious champion of the right of petition; that, while recognising the technical right of petition, he uniformly voted virtually to abrogate it; that when the Slaveholders attempted to crush Mr. Adams, and with him the hope of free discussion in the House, he would not vote so as to secure the venerable man a fair hearing; in a word, that he was the unwavering ally and supporter of the Slaveholding Interest.

In the year 1837, Mr. Pierce become a member of the United States Senate. Following him thither, we shall find that he continued to pursue the same line of policy in relation to the Slavery Question. He took his stand by the side of Mr. Calhoun, and stood by him in his efforts to suppress Anti-Slavery agitation and discussion.

December 18, 1837, Mr. Wall presented a petition from Anti-Slavery ladies in New Jersey, praying for the abolition of Slavery in the District of Columbia, and moved to lay it on the table. Mr. Hubbard moved to lay that motion on the table. Mr. Clay was in favor of a reference, and a report against the prayer of the petition, with a view to quieting excitement. Mr. Calhoun wished by summary measures to meet the question at once. As the action of Mr. Pierce in this case has been the subject of misapprehension with our friends of the Evening Post, we shall fully explain it. His whole course in the House had proved him an unrelenting opponent of Anti-Slavery discussions and petitions; and he had uniformly sustained all gag-resolutions on the subject. But while violating the right of petition in effect, he had been politic enough to respect it in form. This course he continued in the Senate. On this occasion he was in favor of receiving the petition, and then of getting rid of it in any way best calculated to defeat its object and prevent agitation. He did not wish to give the Abolitionists a chance "to make up a false issue on the right of petition." In another place he said—"All we demand is, that since we are to be the first to feel the effects of Abolition ascendancy at home, should it ever be acquired, [which, by the way, I by no means anticipate,] we may meet the question unembarrassed, and not be driven by any course here upon a collateral issue, such as the right to petition or any other." This is a key to the policy of Mr. Pierce. Mr. Rives was in favor of rejecting the petition at once—Mr. Hubbard, of laying the question of reception on the table, Mr. Pierce, of laying the petition on the table. The avowed object of each was to stamp the petitions with disapprobation, to prevent all debate and consideration, to get rid of them as summarily as possible, every one meanwhile declaring his respect for the right of petition.

"When petitions of this character should be received," he said, "he would be prepared to act upon them without delay, to reject the prayer of the petitions, to lay them upon the table, or give them any other direction that might be thought best calculated to silence the agitators, and tranquilize the public mind. As a member of the Select Committee of the other House, of which Mr. Pinckney of South Carolina was chairman, he had fully concurred in the sentiments of the report presented by that gentlemen at the first session of the twenty-fourth Congress; and further examination and reflection had only served to confirm him in the opinion he at that time entertained; but mad and fanatical as he regarded the schemes of the Abolitionists, and deeply as he deplored the consequences of their course upon all sections of the Union, he could give no vote that might be construed into a denial of the right of petition, and thus enable them to change their position, and make up a false issue before the country."

He voted once in the House to lay upon the table the motion to receive an Anti-Slavery petition; but so severely had he been handled for this, that he had become more scrupulous as to forms, and now aimed to reach the same object by laying petitions on the table without debate, printing, or consideration.

And this is the man whom the New York Evening Post represents as having stood with John Quincy Adams by the right of petition!

December 27, 1837, Mr. Calhoun brought forward his celebrated resolutions on the subject of Slavery in the District, Territories, and States, designed avowedly to suppress the discussion of all questions of Slavery.

Several amendments were moved to the first four of these resolutions, intended to modify their phraseology so as to remove any implication against free discussion, but they were firmly resisted by Mr. Calhoun and his friends, and in every case defeated—Franklin Pierce uniformly voting with him. Mr. Morris, of Ohio, for example, moved to strike out from the second resolution the words "moral and religious," with a view of exempting from denunciation the moral and religious discussion of Slavery; and this seemed so reasonable, that even Mr. Buchanan recorded his name in favor of it; but it was lost—Franklin Pierce voting nay with Mr. Calhoun.

Mr. Morris moved, also, an amendment to the third resolution, declaring the freedom of speech and of the press, on all subjects, indisputable, and under the supervision only of the States in which such freedom was exercised; but this was rejected, we believe, by the same vote.

The first four resolutions, with some slight modification, were then adopted—Franklin Pierce, recording his vote in favor of every one of them.

When the fifth resolution came up, asserting substantially that efforts by the People of the States, or the States themselves, to procure the abolition of slavery in the District or Territories, were "direct and dangerous attacks on the institutions of the Slaveholding States," though all the States are made responsible by the Constitution and Congress for Slavery in the District and Territories, Mr. Pierce took occasion to define his position. This resolution, he said, was the ground on which this contest was to be determined; "with, perhaps, some modification, would present the true issue here and to the country—an issue which would raise, not a mere question of expediency, but one of a much higher character, in which the public faith is directly involved." He then proceeded to sustain the resolution in its length and breadth, and to vindicate the whole series as offered by Mr. Calhoun against the assaults made upon them.

But, while Mr. Pierce was anxious to put through all these resolutions, Mr. Clay and other slaveholding Senators thought the fifth and sixth too sweeping and unguarded; and he moved a substitute, directed only against interference by the citizens of one State with the institutions of another, containing no declaration that attempts to bring about the abolition of slavery in the District "were a direct and dangerous attack upon the institutions of all the slaveholding States," but recognising, in express terms, the duty of Congress to receive and respectfully treat all petitions, in decorous language, against slavery in the District. This substitute was adopted, with some slight modification—19 to 18—Mr. Buchanan and Mr. Clay voting yea, Mr. Calhoun and Mr. Pierce, nay.

Subsequently, the substitute was divided, and its various parts amended and adopted successively—Mr. Calhoun and Mr. Pierce generally voting together.

On motion of Mr. Preston, of South Carolina, the sixth resolution of Mr. Calhoun was laid upon the table, on the ground that this branch of the subject would be more appropriately discussed in connection with the resolutions introduced by him for the annexation of Texas to the Union. The vote stood 35 to 9—this time Mr. Pierce voting with the great majority against Mr. Calhoun.(p)

Jan. 3, 1838, two petitions were presented, one against the annexation of Texas and the admission of any new State tolerating slavery; the other for the abolition of the inter-State slave trade. The motion to receive was laid upon the table—Mr. Pierce voting nay, in accordance with his policy, which was, to receive all such petitions, and lay them on the table instantly.(q)

Jan. 9th, 1838, Mr. Prentice presented resolutions of the Legislature of Vermont against the annexation of Texas, against slavery in the District, and Atherton's gag; and he moved that they be laid upon the table and be printed. The first part of the motion prevailed; and Mr. Lumpkin then moved to lay upon the table the motion to print. This was carried, and a sovereign State was thus insulted by the following vote—yeas 29, nays 8—Franklin Pierce voting yea.(r)

The chief art of learning, as Locke has observed, is to attempt but little at a time.—The wildest excursions of the mind are made by short flights, frequently repeated; the most lofty fabrics of science are formed by the continual accumulation of single propositions.

We are not to suppose that the oak wants stability because its light and changeable leaves dance to the music of the breeze; nor are we to conclude that a man wants solidity and strength of mind because he may exhibit an occasional playfulness and levity.

It is mentioned in Robert's life of Hannah More, that in 1788, Hannah More sat next to Dr. Johnson, at a dinner party at the Bishop of Chester's house. She says, "I urged him to take a little wine." He replied, "I can't drink a little, child, therefore I never touch it. Abstinence is as easy to me as temperance would be difficult."

An Indian chieftain, during the early settlement of New England, invited a minister to settle as a missionary among his tribe, and to induce him to do so, the Sagamore said, "You shall be to us as one who stands by a running water, filling many vessels."

People who are always talking sentiment have usually not very deep feelings. The less water you have in your kettle, the sooner it begins to make a noise and smoke.

One of the conductors on the Hudson River Railroad, was discharged yesterday. During "election week" he got his head so "swelled" that he could not get it through the tunnel. Served him right.

A gentleman popping his head through a tailor's shop window, exclaimed—"What o'clock is it by your lapboard?"—upon which the tailor lifted up his lapboard and struck him a blow on the head, answering, "it has just struck one."

Count Demidoff, one of the richest Russian noblemen, has arrived in Rome, from Florence, to present the pope with a cross, in malachite, value 30,000 francs, (about $6,000,) extracted from his Siberian mines.

One of the Dark Places of the Earth.—Mr. Hunt, a Wesleyan missionary among the Feejees, who are cannibals of the worst description, has stated that 500 persons had been eaten in five years, within 15 miles of his residence. Some of them eat raw human flesh, and chew it as sailors do tobacco. They sometimes eat their best friends. When parents grew old, they were killed by their children. Sometimes they were buried alive or thrown to sharks. Woman on the death of their husbands were killed.

GREAT WORK ON CIVILIZATION.

This valuable work, has just arrived at

C. OTT'S BOOKSTORE.

It is the work of the age. From a large number of liberal and highly complimentary notices of this work, from the religious and secular press, we only select the following:

"This admirable work is at length before us, and we hasten to inform our readers of the valuable addition, which has thus been made to the Literature of our country. The work is by far the most important of its kind, ever published in this country. It is in fact a complete library in itself, condensed and so arranged as to bring the whole question within the grasp of the humblest reader. It appears most appropriately at the present time, and will, no doubt, prove an instrument of great efficacy in the work of diffusing sound doctrines on the matters of which it treats."—Truth Teller. april 22

GREAT WESTERN STOVE DEPOT!
Nos. 87, 89 and 91, East Water street,
MILWAUKEE.

THE subscribers having been appointed agents of the PRESQUE ISLE IRON FOUNDRY, (the largest Stove manufactory in the United States,) are prepared to offer to the trade, and to retail customers

A better article of Stoves and at LOWER PRICES, than can be bought at any place west of Albany.

From an experience of ten years in the Stove business in Milwaukee, we have learned what kinds are best adapted to the wants of this country, and have no hesitation in saying, that in point of style, utility and durability, the excel all others brought to this market. The designs and patterns are neat and tasteful, and being run from the blast, are not as liable to crack as those run from the pig, for the reason that the latter receives one more melting than the former.

Among our Cooking Stoves may be found the LION and PRIZE, two Stoves that stand without a rival among the "Air Tights." The Lion is a diving three flue stove, with two tops, one for barrel or five pail kettles, and the other for boilers, tea-kettles, pots, &c; also, the KEYSTONE and CHAUTAUQUE FARMER, with elevated ovens. The Keystone is regarded by all who have seen it as the finest specimen of a cooking stove ever presented to the public, and the fact is attested by the large number sold.
The Chautauque Farmer, was designed expressly for the farmers' use, it having no inside or division plates, making the fire-place large and not liable to burn out.
Of the above mentioned Stoves we might give over 500 certificates, proving their good qualities, from persons who have used them; but as we guarantee them to be the best in use, we do not deem it necessary. We have also every variety of

Premium and Double-Oven Cooking,

From No 1 to 6; also a great variety of

of splendid patterns, with and without folding doors, together with an endless variety of

all of which we respectfully request you to call and examine before purchasing
